

THE BEST GOODS

Are Carried in Stock
By the Best Merchants
And Are Sold the Cheapest.

With a view to make it public that we buy our Gents' Furnishing Goods from the wholesale houses in America, and not from bankrupt sales or second-hand houses. We don't carry any hand-me-down clothes, but what we have is new, strong and durable clothing for men, boys and children, and we sell as low as we possibly can. When you have the money and need clothes, don't forget to call and investigate our stock, and you will surely buy.

Gittler's Bargain Store.

Cash! Cash! Cash!

Propose to do a cash business after the 18th of April and have adjusted my accordingly. Call and make a purchase and be convinced. I carry a full and complete line of Groceries, Confectionery, Notions, Cutlery, Smokers' Articles, Stationery and School Supplies. A full line of Fruits and Vegetables always on hand.

Yours for trade.

Martin B. Kuhn.

Warwick Bicycles!

Surreys, Phaetons, Buggies,
Wagons, Carts, Etc.

Have the largest and most complete stock ever brought to the copper country.
Harness and Carriage Repository: 521 Scott Street.

W. C. KINSMAN.

One Thousand

That is less than the number of families that we expect to locate upon the

EXCELLENT

FARMING

LANDS AT ## Munising.

That may seem like a large number, but the people who are looking for

Homes of Their Own

Are going every week to examine for themselves and in almost every case are so well pleased with the land, the property, etc., that they look no farther. It is important that all who are interested should

GET IN ON

THE GROUND

FLOOR.

The first to buy gets the best show as to location, etc. It will not pay you to wait. Railway Excursion Rates are sold every Thursday at greatly reduced rates. Tickets are good for ten days.

For Particulars Enquire of

GEO. H. MILES,

WALLS' BLOCK, OAK STREET, CALUMET.
L. H. RICHARDSON, 3, QUINCY STREET, HANCOCK, OF BUTTERFIELD HO. 38, LAKE LINDEN.

COLORED DELEGATES.

Will St. Louis Hotels Discriminate Against Them?

A SUBJECT OF MUCH DISCUSSION.

Although the Local Committee Which went to Washington said there would be no difference in the treatment of White and Black Delegates, It is Apparent That the Leading Hotels Will endeavor to Evade the Agreement.

ST. LOUIS, June 9.—Whether the colored delegates will be discriminated against in the leading hotels, restaurants, saloons and barber shops during the convention time is causing trepidation among the Business Men's League and discussion among a great many leading citizens.

This moving element to convention harmony, it crops out, has been smoldering, but was kept out of public view for nearly a week past. That there was or might be any drawing of the color line during the convention except to sight Sunday morning through a letter signed by St. M. Kennard, president of the Business Men's League, in which he appealed to the hotel men and other public entertainers of the city to make no discrimination in dispensing hospitality to the delegates on account of their color and urging them to accord to all reputable and respectable colored men the same treatment they would extend to white men.

Local Committee's Promise.

The letter reminds the hotel men that the local committee who went to Washington to solicit the Republican convention for St. Louis promised the national committee that no difference would be made by the proprietors of the hotels and other public places in the treatment of white and black delegates to the convention. It seems an intention to evade this agreement has suddenly developed among the leading hotels. Admission to the sleeping apartments and dining rooms will not be flatly denied to colored delegates, but they will be excluded by subterfuge. It is learned that a number of colored delegates from some of the southern states have sent word to friends here that they have been promised the best hotel accommodations in St. Louis and intend to take them.

Quartermen in Sleeping Cars.

Many of the delegates to the Republican convention will be quartered in their sleeping cars in the St. Louis terminal. The association has space for 200 sleeping cars and they will be so placed as to afford their occupants no trouble in reaching them. Already space has been reserved for the cars. Among the organizations that have secured such accommodations are the following: The Cook County Republican club of Chicago will occupy ten cars. The Marquette club of Chicago will have a special train of ten cars.

Two Cincinnati Clubs.

The Young Men's Blaine club of Cincinnati and the Cincinnati Lincoln club will occupy twenty-three cars. The Republican club of Minneapolis will occupy ten cars in the same locality, and the Tippecanoe club of Cleveland will have ten sleeping cars. The Burlington will have six special trains with the sleeping cars, which will be stored in their own yards here. They will be occupied by the Golden Gate club of California, Kansas City McKinley club, the delegation of St. Joe Republicans and a special party from Minneapolis.

R. C. KERENS IN CHICAGO.

The Man Who Wrangles with Filley the Cause of Much Talk.

CHICAGO, June 9.—The inner circle of the political world was filled with quiet steady rumors of war when it was announced Monday morning that Richard C. Kerens of St. Louis had drifted into the city, stopped at the Auditorium annex for a few hours, and then grided himself for a descent upon the McKinley campaign at Canton, O. Mr. Kerens, whose continued contest with his political opponent, Chauncey L. Filley, has created such a hubbub in the ranks of Missouri Republicans, had little to say concerning the situation in the national struggle. He modestly declined to discourse to any extent upon his pilgrimage to the Ohio town and his object in conferring with the leaders in the McKinley stronghold was not disclosed.

"I'll wager that Mr. Kerens will be present at the assembly," said McKinley's lieutenant at Canton just before Mark Hanna's departure for St. Louis, "and a local light in the political field. It is known that the Kerens-Filley wrangle is not conclusive to the welfare of the McKinley boom and while Filley, it is true, is not in a position to throw the Missouri delegation against McKinley many complications are liable to arise, so that he would better be kept in a good humor or the Ohio man may suffer. Kerens was called to Canton, I understand, and will be instructed to be careful."

START FOR THE GOAL.

New Yorkers Preparing for a Joint Descent Upon St. Louis.

NEW YORK, June 9.—Seven sleeping cars will start for St. Louis on Friday with the machine Republicans of this city, some by the New York Central, some by the Baltimore and Ohio. Secretary George B. Manchester of the Republican county committee, the chief of transportation, started Monday morning with the mass of documentary testimony which will be used in support of the case of the organization delegates. In the contests before the national committee on Wednesday.

The McKinley league delegation to St. Louis, which will leave over the West Shore road next Saturday will take about a monster roll purporting to contain the names of many thousands of men in this city who favor the nomination of the Ohio candidate. This big roll has been in preparation for several weeks. A lot of clerks have been busy transcribing the names which have been furnished them for the purpose.

Breakthrough Is Contingent.

LOUISVILLE, June 9.—A special to The Times from Lexington says: In reply to a direct question from a reporter for the Lexington Argonaut, Colonel W. C. P. Breckinridge is quoted as follows:

"Well, sir, I do not intend to say much on that point, but you may just as well say for me that I intend to be the next Democratic congressman from the Kentucky district. That is all I have to say just now."

VIOLENT RAIN STORM.

A Great Deal of Damage Caused at Springfield, Ill.

SPRINGFIELD, June 9.—For three hours Sunday night this city was swept by one of the most violent electrical and thunder storms that ever occurred in this section of Illinois. Many thousands of dollars damage resulted. In many cases the first floors of residences were flooded with several feet of water. The municipal telegraph, fire and police electrical systems were knocked out for eight hours and the city left in darkness most of the night. Several alarms of fire added to the terror of the situation.

The state house electrical system was demolished, telegraph and telephone switch boards were searched and other damage done. Thousands of sparrows cover the ground, having been driven by the deluge. The Sangamon river has risen five feet and is still advancing. There has been great damage in the lowlands.

TROLLEY CAR RUNS AWAY.

Kills One, Fatally Hurts Three and Injures Fifty Others.

NEW YORK, June 9.—An overloaded trolley car ran away down a long incline on the Nassau street railway extending to Canal street Sunday. More than 100 passengers were put in peril of their lives. One lad was killed outright. Twenty were bruised and battered in a horrible fashion. A score or more were slightly hurt. Among the casualties are the following: Dead—Unknown Russian boy, 12 years old, skull crushed. Probably fatally injured—Louis Bleckman, of New York, and Mrs. Mary Evans and Leonard Fortie, of Brooklyn.

Labor Troubles at Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, O., June 9.—A force of union molders marched in the foundry of Dornier & Dutton on Hamilton street Monday where castings were being made for the Brown Hoisting and Conveying company, in which concern is a lockout. The 200 molders marched in a body, first attacking in a body the shops of the Dornier & Dutton company and then rushing upon Dornier & Dutton's shop. The molders were pulled or driven out of the building. The police were finally summoned and quelled the riot.

Sudden Demand for Window Glass.

PITTSBURGH, June 9.—The western cyclones of the past month have caused a sudden demand for window glass and stocks at the various selling agencies in the west have been greatly reduced. The unexpected demand has concerned the independent factories in the west as well as those in the Pittsburgh district. Factories with 218 per cent capacity are in operation at New Kensington, Wilmington, Del., Norristown, Pa., Danville, Alexandria, and Pendleton, Ind., and Elkhart, N. Y.

Kept Busy Rescuing People.

LEWISBURG, Minn., June 9.—Owing to the rain floods here Saturday night citizens were kept busy rescuing people who live on the river bottom and many narrow escapes are reported. Fred Berg and James Jacob were captured in a boat at midnight while trying to rescue the family of M. Gillard. The boys were washed against some rocks where they remained all morning. Several farm houses were demolished and hundreds of cattle, sheep and hogs perished.

Troops Sent Home.

ST. LOUIS, June 9.—George Kneppke, who was injured by the falling timbers of his house in East St. Louis at the time of the tornado recently, died Monday. Major Bennett, commanding the two companies of state troops in the cyclone district at East St. Louis, was directed Monday by the adjutant general to disband his command and send them to their homes, as the local authorities have stated that the situation no longer demands their services.

Double Tragedy at San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—J. W. Rhy, assistant editor of The Journal of Commerce, was shot and killed late Saturday night by Mrs. Nina Mardouglou, who is said to be the wife of a drummer for a Chicago barbed wire company. The woman then shot herself through the heart. Hay and the woman had been living together for several days, when he announced that he was going to leave her. Then she shot him and killed herself.

Killed While Plowing.

NEW ORLEANS, June 9.—While plowing in his field near Duxon, Lafayette parish, Saturday, Sidney J. Farver, a well known planter, was struck by lightning and instantly killed. The same bolt killed two mules and a horse. Adam Hoffbauer, son of the planter, was also killed. The lightning struck the planter's house, which was then in flames. The planter was taken with apoplexy, which no doubt will prove fatal.

At Potato Bugs and Died.

PROBIA, Ill., June 9.—D. J. Davis, superintendent of the Peoria county post farm, poisoned the potato bugs in the patch, and later Jacob Probst, one of the inmates, ate the poisoned bug and died. The man was dying in great agony during the night. Probst had a mania for eating bugs and rats and had for years. He was 61 years of age and had been an inmate of the poorhouse for twenty-five years.

Derivatives Suffer Heavily.

PIRETT, June 9.—Shells, Pasha has made a tour of the battlefield and recognized the body of Emir Hamuda of the tribe of Habbema, who commanded the derelict forces during the engagement here Sunday, which resulted in the defeat of the enemy with a heavy loss. Hamuda was shot through the head. The prisoners captured by the Egyptian forces state that the derelicts were sleeping when attacked.

Corrections and Charities.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., June 9.—The feature of Monday morning's meeting of the national corrections and charities conference was discussion of the tramp problem. No original theories were propounded. Fifty of the delegates accepted an invitation to visit the state industrial school for boys at Lansing.

Two More Storm Victims.

MASCOITAB, Ill., June 9.—Two more have been added to the list of the dead from the cyclone at New Baden. The last two victims were Miss Bussler and Miss Hazel Ethington, both of whom were badly crushed by falling timbers.

Help for St. Louis Sufferers.

NEW YORK, June 9.—A benefit performance Sunday night netted $2,000 for the St. Louis cyclone sufferers.

JULES SIMON IS DEAD.

The Well-Known Statesman Expires at Paris.

FORMERLY PREMIER OF FRANCE.

The Distinguished Man Had Been Dangerously Ill for Some Time and His Death Was Not Unexpected—Short History of His Political Career—Decision of the Mixed Tribunal in Regard to the Use of the Egyptian Reserve Fund.

PARIS, June 9.—Jules Simon, the distinguished French statesman, formerly premier, who had been dangerously ill for some time, died at 11:40 Monday morning, aged 83 years. Jules Simon was one of the greatest Frenchmen of the century, was born at Lorien (Morbihan) Dec. 31, 1814. His full name was Jules Francois.

Simon, but he preferred the simple name under which he will be always known. After a career as teacher, later as professor of philosophy, in 1847 he and a friend started a philosophical and political review in Paris. In the government of national defense, formed in 1870, Jules Simon was minister of public instruction, public worship, and the fine arts.

Elected Senator for Life.

After the elections of 1871 he took from M. Thiers the portfolio of minister of public instruction, which he resigned in 1873, when he was elected president for the first time. In 1875 he was elected senator for life. The next year he became premier and president of the interior, office which he resigned in 1877, being virtually displaced by the reactionary McMahon, then president of the republic. M. Simon was received as a member of the French academy in 1879. In 1879 he steadily opposed Ferry's scheme to suppress unauthorized religious congregations. He was made a member of the senate in 1881, and in 1882 made permanent secretary of the Academy of Moral and Political Science. Simon edited editions of several great philosophical writers, and was a contributor to learned reviews and periodicals.

EGYPTIAN RESERVE FUND.

It Should Not Have Been Used for the Sudan Expedition.

CAIRO, June 9.—The mixed tribunal rendered judgment Saturday against the government and the four commissioners of the Calisee, who favored advancing funds from the Egyptian reserve for the Sudan expedition. The tribunal declared that this advance was made in violation of all existing decrees, condemned the government to repay the money advanced and enjoined the commissioners from advancing any more money from the reserve fund. The government lodged an appeal against the decision of the mixed tribunal.

Both Sides Lost Heavily.

ATHENS, June 9.—Admiral received here from Crete, island of Crete, announce that the insurgents on Saturday defeated the Turkish troops and captured four guns and 300 Martini-Henry rifles. Both sides sustained heavy loss.

New Shah Enthroned.

TEHRAN, June 9.—Muzaffer-Ed-Din, the new shah of Persia, was formally enthroned Monday. His majesty received the members of the diplomatic corps at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

EIGHT PERSONS DROWNED.

Three Students in a Graduating Class Among the Number.

DES MOINES, Ia., June 9.—Eight persons were drowned in Iowa Saturday. Three students in the graduating class of Norm Springs seminary were drowned while bathing; three boys were drowned at Marengo by the caving in of a bank of a river; a man was drowned at Winterset while fording the river, and a farmer near George was drowned while building a fence near a stormy building. The dead are: At Norm Springs—M. J. Atkinson of Clear Lake, Ia.; Vernon Gault of Albert Lea, Minn.; Roy C. Slosson of Northwood, Ia.; At Marengo—Robert Wilson, aged 14; Ed. Wilson, aged 12; William Fry, aged 10; at Winterset—Arthur Turner, aged 20; at George—Ezra McKinley, aged 10.

Murdered in Cold Blood.

VINCENNES, Ind., June 9.—Dr. J. H. Dalley of Briele Station, Ill., was murdered in cold blood at 6:30 o'clock Monday morning by Sampson T. Mickey. The homicide was the result of a quarrel over a girl. Dr. Dalley was one of the most prominent physicians in southern Illinois, while Mickey, the murderer, was a prominent educator of Lawrence county. Both were Old Fellows and stood high in society.

Bullet Killed the Wrong Man.

ST. LOUIS, June 9.—A street fight occurred here Sunday night between Andrew Smith and Peter Peterson, a prize fighter, otherwise known as "The Terrible Swede," resulting in Smith's unintentionally killing James Hickey, a disinterested spectator. Smith says he fired at Peterson. He was arrested, but Peterson is still at large.

Socialists Voted Down.

PARIS, June 9.—A socialist attack upon the government was defeated in the chamber of deputies Monday the order of the day being adopted by 318 to 238 votes.

Drowned in a Swollen River.

WINTERSSET, Ia., June 8.—Arthur Turner was drowned in the North river while taking a drive of horses across the ford. The river was swollen by recent rains.

POLICE HAVE A CLEW.

Ninth During Raid Made by Desperate Chicago Bandits.

CHICAGO, June 9.—The police have a clew which may lead to the arrest of the two desperadoes who robbed Leon Klein's store at Liberty and Halsted streets Saturday night. William Haug, manager of the store, rushed breathless into the Maxwell street station about 6 o'clock Sunday night and told the desk sergeant that he had seen the two robbers a short time before in a saloon near Plymouth place and Van Buren street. Mr. Haug related his story to Captain Wheeler, who sent two men to the locality, but up to a late hour Sunday night the men had not been found. Mr. Haug said that he was driving west in Van Buren street about 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon. When near Plymouth place he noticed two men who answered the description of the robbers enter a saloon.

He alighted from his buggy and entered the saloon. The men left hastily by a side entrance when he entered, but not before Mr. Haug had a chance to get a good view of their faces. He followed them out on the sidewalk. They ran around into State street and disappeared in a hallway. Mr. Haug jumped into his buggy and drove on the run to the station. The robbery was the ninth raid made by highwaymen in two months, and the criminal records of Chicago learned something new about audacity.

Hundreds of shoppers saw a man help himself to the contents of a cashier's desk, with no opposition except a tattoo from the cashier's umbrella, and run, with a companion, 200 feet to a door through a crowd panic-stricken by his cry of "fire." No one was killed by the desperadoes, because there was no need of it. They met with all sorts of difficulties, and escaped. The police are looking for them. Chief Badenock says they are sure to be caught. Nothing occurred Sunday to disturb his mind in the same thought. The description of the robbers are identical with the descriptions of the men who have narrowly escaped his clutches eight times since April.

REV. DIAZ AT CINCINNATI.

He Tells How Spaniards Butcher Unarmed People in Cuba.

CINCINNATI, June 9.—Rev. A. J. Diaz, a Cuban born within eight miles of Havana, for twelve years pastor of Getsemani Baptist church in Cuba, now an exile by order of General Weyler, preached Sunday in Covington, also in Mount Auburn and at Ninth Street Baptist church. He was a non-combatant in Cuba until his exile; now he proposes to travel and lecture all over the United States in the interest of the Cuban patriots as he calls them. He was recently released from Morro castle in obedience to orders from the government of Madrid to which President Cleveland had sent overtures in his behalf.

He said that he had been a non-combatant and neutral. He maintained a hospital in Havana for Spaniards, and a hospital on the outside of the city for insurgents. He said Spanish soldiers came and butchered 300 unarmed insurgents at his country hospital in cold blood, and then bulletined it as an engagement in which they had won a great victory. He said Spanish soldiers repeatedly went out to plantations where the rebels had been, and butchered all the unarmed citizens, women and children included, and then General Weyler would bulletin these massacres as engagements with insurgents.

He said that he had been a non-combatant and neutral. He maintained a hospital in Havana for Spaniards, and a hospital on the outside of the city for insurgents. He said Spanish soldiers came and butchered 300 unarmed insurgents at his country hospital in cold blood, and then bulletined it as an engagement in which they had won a great victory. He said Spanish soldiers repeatedly went out to plantations where the rebels had been, and butchered all the unarmed citizens, women and children included, and then General Weyler would bulletin these massacres as engagements with insurgents.

He said that he had been a non-combatant and neutral. He maintained a hospital in Havana for Spaniards, and a hospital on the outside of the city for insurgents. He said Spanish soldiers came and butchered 300 unarmed insurgents at his country hospital in cold blood, and then bulletined it as an engagement in which they had won a great victory. He said Spanish soldiers repeatedly went out to plantations where the rebels had been, and butchered all the unarmed citizens, women and children included, and then General Weyler would bulletin these massacres as engagements with insurgents.

He said that he had been a non-combatant and neutral. He maintained a hospital in Havana for Spaniards, and a hospital on the outside of the city for insurgents. He said Spanish soldiers came and butchered 300 unarmed insurgents at his country hospital in cold blood, and then bulletined it as an engagement in which they had won a great victory. He said Spanish soldiers repeatedly went out to plantations where the rebels had been, and butchered all the unarmed citizens, women and children included, and then General Weyler would bulletin these massacres as engagements with insurgents.

He said that he had been a non-combatant and neutral. He maintained a hospital in Havana for Spaniards, and a hospital on the outside of the city for insurgents. He said Spanish soldiers came and butchered 300 unarmed insurgents at his country hospital in cold blood, and then bulletined it as an engagement in which they had won a great victory. He said Spanish soldiers repeatedly went out to plantations where the rebels had been, and butchered all the unarmed citizens, women and children included, and then General Weyler would bulletin these massacres as engagements with insurgents.

He said that he had been a non-combatant and neutral. He maintained a hospital in Havana for Spaniards, and a hospital on the outside of the city for insurgents. He said Spanish soldiers came and butchered 300 unarmed insurgents at his country hospital in cold blood, and then bulletined it as an engagement in which they had won a great victory. He said Spanish soldiers repeatedly went out to plantations where the rebels had been, and butchered all the unarmed citizens, women and children included, and then General Weyler would bulletin these massacres as engagements with insurgents.

He said that he had been a non-combatant and neutral. He maintained a hospital in Havana for Spaniards, and a hospital on the outside of the city for insurgents. He said Spanish soldiers came and butchered 300 unarmed insurgents at his country hospital in cold blood, and then bulletined it as an engagement in which they had won a great victory. He said Spanish soldiers repeatedly went out to plantations where the rebels had been, and butchered all the unarmed citizens, women and children included, and then General Weyler would bulletin these massacres as engagements with insurgents.

He said that he had been a non-combatant and neutral. He maintained a hospital in Havana for Spaniards, and a hospital on the outside of the city for insurgents. He said Spanish soldiers came and butchered 300 unarmed insurgents at his country hospital in cold blood, and then bulletined it as an engagement in which they had won a great victory. He said Spanish soldiers repeatedly went out to plantations where the rebels had been, and butchered all the unarmed citizens, women and children included, and then General Weyler would bulletin these massacres as engagements with insurgents.

He said that he had been a non-combatant and neutral. He maintained a hospital in Havana for Spaniards, and a hospital on the outside of the city for insurgents. He said Spanish soldiers came and butchered 300 unarmed insurgents at his country hospital in cold blood, and then bulletined it as an engagement in which they had won a great victory. He said Spanish soldiers repeatedly went out to plantations where the rebels had been, and butchered all the unarmed citizens, women and children included, and then General Weyler would bulletin these massacres as engagements with insurgents.

He said that he had been a non-combatant and neutral. He maintained a hospital in Havana for Spaniards, and a hospital on the outside of the city for insurgents. He said Spanish soldiers came and butchered 300 unarmed insurgents at his country hospital in cold blood, and then bulletined it as an engagement in which they had won a great victory. He said Spanish soldiers repeatedly went out to plantations where the rebels had been, and butchered all the unarmed citizens, women and children included, and then General Weyler would bulletin these massacres as engagements with insurgents.

He said that he had been a non-combatant and neutral. He maintained a hospital in Havana for Spaniards, and a hospital on the outside of the city for insurgents. He said Spanish soldiers came and butchered 300 unarmed insurgents at his country hospital in cold blood, and then bulletined it as an engagement in which they had won a great victory. He said Spanish soldiers repeatedly went out to plantations where the rebels had been, and butchered all the unarmed citizens, women and children included, and then General Weyler would bulletin these massacres as engagements with insurgents.

He said that he had been a non-combatant and neutral. He maintained a hospital in Havana for Spaniards, and a hospital on the outside of the city for insurgents. He said Spanish soldiers came and butchered 300 unarmed insurgents at his country hospital in cold blood, and then bulletined it as an engagement in which they had won a great victory. He said Spanish soldiers repeatedly went out to plantations where the rebels had been, and butchered all the unarmed citizens, women and children included, and then General Weyler would bulletin these massacres as engagements with insurgents.

He said that he had been a non-combatant and neutral. He maintained a hospital in Havana for Spaniards, and a hospital on the outside of the city for insurgents. He said Spanish soldiers came and butchered 300 unarmed insurgents at his country hospital in cold blood, and then bulletined it as an engagement in which they had won a great victory. He said Spanish soldiers repeatedly went out to plantations where the rebels had been, and butchered all the unarmed citizens, women and children included, and then General Weyler would bulletin these massacres as engagements with insurgents.

He said that he had been a non-combatant and neutral. He maintained a hospital in Havana for Spaniards, and a hospital on the outside of the city for insurgents. He said Spanish soldiers came and butchered 300 unarmed insurgents at his country hospital in cold blood, and then bulletined it as an engagement in which they had won a great victory. He said Spanish soldiers repeatedly went out to plantations where the rebels had been, and butchered all the unarmed citizens, women and children included, and then General Weyler would bulletin these massacres as engagements with insurgents.

He said that he had been a non-combatant and neutral. He maintained a hospital in Havana for Spaniards, and a hospital on the outside of the city for insurgents. He said Spanish soldiers came and butchered 300 unarmed insurgents at his country hospital in cold blood, and then bulletined it as an engagement in which they had won a great victory. He said Spanish soldiers repeatedly went out to plantations where the rebels had been, and butchered all the unarmed citizens, women and children included, and then General Weyler would bulletin these massacres as engagements with insurgents.

He said that he had been a non-combatant and neutral. He maintained a hospital in Havana for Spaniards, and a hospital on the outside of the city for insurgents. He said Spanish soldiers came and butchered 300 unarmed insurgents at his country hospital in cold blood, and then bulletined it as an engagement in which they had won a great victory. He said Spanish soldiers repeatedly went out to plantations where the rebels had been, and butchered all the unarmed citizens, women and children included, and then General Weyler would bulletin these massacres as engagements with insurgents.

He said that he had been a non-combatant and neutral. He maintained a hospital in Havana for Spaniards, and a hospital on the outside of the city for insurgents. He said Spanish soldiers came and butchered 300 unarmed insurgents at his country hospital in cold blood, and then bulletined it as an engagement in which they had won a great victory. He said Spanish soldiers repeatedly went out to plantations where the rebels had been, and butchered all the unarmed citizens, women and children included, and then General Weyler would bulletin these massacres as engagements with insurgents.

He said that he had been a non-combatant and neutral. He maintained a hospital in Havana for Spaniards, and a hospital on the outside of the city for insurgents. He said Spanish soldiers came and butchered 300 unarmed insurgents at his country hospital in cold blood, and then bulletined it as an engagement in which they had won a great victory. He said Spanish soldiers repeatedly went out to plantations where the rebels had been, and butchered all the unarmed citizens, women and children included, and then General Weyler would bulletin these massacres as engagements with insurgents.

He said that he had been a non-combatant and neutral. He maintained a hospital in Havana for Spaniards, and a hospital on the outside of the city for insurgents. He said Spanish soldiers came and butchered 300 unarmed insurgents at his country hospital in cold blood, and then bulletined it as an engagement in which they had won a great victory. He said Spanish soldiers repeatedly went out to plantations where the rebels had been, and butchered all the unarmed citizens, women and children included, and then General Weyler would bulletin these massacres as engagements with insurgents.

He said that he had been a non-combatant and neutral. He maintained a hospital in Havana for Spaniards, and a hospital on the outside of the city for insurgents. He said Spanish soldiers came and butchered 300 unarmed insurgents at his country hospital in cold blood, and then bulletined it as an engagement in which they had won a great victory. He said Spanish soldiers repeatedly went out to plantations where the rebels had been, and butchered all the unarmed citizens, women and children included, and then General Weyler would bulletin these massacres as engagements with insurgents.

He said that he had been a non-combatant and neutral. He maintained a hospital in Havana for Spaniards, and a hospital on the outside of the city for insurgents. He said Spanish soldiers came and butchered 300 unarmed insurgents at his country hospital in cold blood, and then bulletined it as an engagement in which they had won a great victory. He said Spanish soldiers repeatedly went out to plantations where the rebels had been, and butchered all the unarmed citizens, women and children included, and then General Weyler would bulletin these massacres as engagements with insurgents.

THE CLOSING HOURS.

Congress Liable to Adjourn at Any Time Now.

PROCEEDINGS IN BOTH HOUSES.

New Deficiency Bill, Framed to Meet the Objects of the President to the Old Measure, Passed by the Senate—President Cleveland Tells an Old Friend He Could Not Stand a Third Term at the White House.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The new deficiency bill, framed to meet the objections of a president's recent veto, was taken up as soon as the senate met Monday. Before proceeding with it further conferences were ordered on the Indian and District of Columbia appropriation bills. The activity and confusion on the floor of the senate while minor measures were hurried through their final stages indicated the near approach of adjournment. The large attendance of senators overcame fears that had been entertained that the senate would be left without a quorum. Voluntary asked immediate consideration for a resolution directing the committee on library to investigate the circumstances of the award of the statue of General William Tecumseh Sherman (Mr. Rohlf Smith's design having been accepted) and requesting the secretary of war to suspend the execution of the contract for the statue until a report had been made at the next session. The resolution went over.

The deficiency bill passed the senate as it came from the house.

House Proceedings.